Greenbelt Voters Expected to Show Strong Vote for Richard Castaldi

by Elaine Skolnik

Hometown candidate for the Prince Georges County Council Richard Castaldi is expected to bring out a big Democratic vote in Greenbelt on Primary Day — September 14, 1982. A native son and the city's current mayor, Castaldi must win big here in order to enhance his chances of victory.

Greenbelters are aching to capture the Fourth District council seat, for without it the City of Bowie will continue to hold a monopoly on all offices the two share. The recently adopted re-districting plan placed Greenbelt with its 18,000 residents in the same district as Bowie, popula-ic Central Committee hopefuls Jeanette Kimbrough-Gordy, an incumbent, and City Councilman Thomas X. White, both of Greenbelt. Gordy and White are seen as favorites among a field of seven because of their slate affiliation. Patrick E. Needham of Greenbelt is running at large for the Democratic Central Committee. His opponent is Joanne L. O'Brien of the Alliance slate.

Former Greenbelter Martin G. Madden is seeking one of two Republican Central Committee slots. Other candidates are Gloria Baumgartner, Leonard F. Bergstrom and Donald Bruce McBride.

PRIMARY - SEPT. 14

Primary Day 1982 is Tuesday, September 14. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at Greenbelt's four polling places — Center School (third precinct); St. Hugh's School (sixth precinct); Springhill Lake School (eighth precinct); and Eleanor Roosevelt High (thirteenth precinct). The latter also includes registered voters who live in Chelsea Woods, Brae Brook Village, Goddard Space Village and Hunting Ridge. Registered in the four precincts are 7,666 persons. Democrats number 4,993, Republicans, 1705 and American Party, 2. Those declining party affiliation number 966. In Prince Georges County there are 227,735 eligible voters — 156,592 Democrats, 49,234 Republicans, 21,877 Declines or Independents and 32 American Party.

Only Democrats and Republicans, 21,877 Declines or Independent primary elections. Those who decline to declare a party affiliation may vote only in nonpartisan elections, such as an election for a member of the Board of Education. Because incumbent Lesley Kreimer of Greenbelt faces no opposition in her bid to be returned to the Board of Education, Greenbelt's "declines" will not have an opportunity to vote on September 14.

W. Cutlip and A. Lee Ball, perennial candidate and former Greenbelter.

In the major contests for Governor, Senator and Member of the House of Representatives, there appear to be clear favorites in both parties. Among the Democrats, incumbent Harry Hughes and his new running mate, J. See PRIMARY, page 3, col. 3

Castaldi's rivals are incumbent County Councilman Roy Dabney, retiring Board of Education member Al James Golato and former Bowie Mayor William W. Wildman.

All Democratic candidates running for the Maryland House of Delegates are Bowie residents. The front runners are incumbents Gerard F. Devlin, Joan B. Pitkin and Charles "Buzz" Ryan, although challenger James W. Hubbard could pose a threat to one of the three. Lawrence E. Keval is also on the ballot.

Democrat Leo Green of Bowie has no opposition in the primary for the Maryland State Senate slot. Green, Ryan and Devlin are running on the Democratic Alliance slate, along with Democrat-ecutive race. Running in a close race, are Ann Shoch, member of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, and William Goodman, architect of TRIM charter amendment and former Democratic state delegate and educator who changed his party affiliation several months ago.

On the Democratic side, county councilman Paris Glendenning should have no trouble winning the nonnomination. His opponents are Arthur B. Haynes, Kenneth

Al Golato Misuses Logo Of News Review; Apologizes

Early this week the Greenbelt News Review became aware that a political flyer was being circulated within the city under the logo of this paper. The clear impression was given that the News Review had endorsed the candidacy for county council of Al James Golato, and that the legend, "Dear Readers," below the News Review logo, and words that followed were those of this paper.

In fact, the use of the logo in this manner was not approved by the News Review, and permission for such use had not been sought. Moreover, the headings and text under the logo were not written by the staff of this paper and had not previously appeared in this paper except as a paid political advertisement.

The News Review, as an independent newspaper, has not endorsed his candidacy.

After our strong protest concerning this misuse of our logo, Golato has issued the following written statement of apology to the News Review:

"A few distributed reprints of an advertisement that appeared in the Greenbelt News Review were apparently read by some recipients as an endorsement by your newspaper. Obviously, it was not.

"The distribution was stopped as soon as I was notified. I'm sorry if the use of your Greenbelt News Review logo adversely reflected against your fine paper's independence," A. J. Golato.

Charlie Schwan: Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen of 1982

by Leta Mach

"Summarizing the contributions of this year's Outstanding Citizen is an impossible task," explained Labor Day Festival Outstanding Citizen Chairperson Linda Shevitz. As Shevitz began to summarize the achievements — co-chair of the Greenbelt Freedom of the Press Committee, President of the GHI Board of Directors, Member of City Council — it did not take the audience long to realize the identity of this year's Outstanding Citizen. From the audience reaction, it was evident that the selection of Charles Schwan as Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen of 1982 met with enthusiastic approval.

For 30 years, Schwan has served the city of Greenbelt. He began as chairman of a committee to establish the city's Advisory Planning Board. Years of service to Greenbelt Homes, Inc. (GHI) included terms on the GHI Board of Directors and as president as well as always being a very concerned GHI member. As such he was involved in the construction of the GHI larger homes in the North End, the rehabilitation of GHI homes and in relocating Roosevelt High School to its present location.

When the News Review was sued by a local developer Schwan became co-chair of the Freedom of the Press Committee. The efforts of this committee were rewarded when the newspaper won its appeal before the United States Supreme Court.

From 1971 to 1981 Schwan served as an elected member of City Council. This position was one that put him in the forefront of every major issue affecting the city. "He has never shirked controversy or hedged on an issue for political or personal reasons. His decisions have always come from deep personal convictions and regard for the best interests of the community," testify those who nominated Schwan for the award. They add, "Even though one may not always agree with him, one never doubts that his motives are entirely selfless."

Of his personal qualities, his friends and colleagues say, "He is a person of integrity, commitment and dedication—and also a person of honor, wit and compassion."

Wit and humor were readily apparent when Schwan accepted the award with, "Well, I get to say a few words." Schwan confessed that he was "not entirely surprised because Gil Weidenfeld gave me some cockamamie story about why I should be here." Reflecting that he had received many honors since retiring from City Council, Schwan drew this moral. "Desert the ship."

Becoming serious, Schwan said, "It is a great honor especially in this community where service to one's fellows is prized so highly and undertaken by so many." Schwan told the News Review, "There's no question that it's a great honor." To be nominated, he feels, is even more of an honor.

Nominated by Greenbelt citizens, the Outstanding Citizen is chosen by a panel of judges representing different geographical regions of the city. The Outstanding Citizen received a $100 bond from the Bell System Telephone Company, a dish garden from Beltway Florist, a Greenbelt is Great t-shirt from the Greenbelt Nursery School, an engraved plaque and a proclamation from Governor Harry Hughes' office. The proclamation was presented by State Delegates Joan Pitkin and Charles Ryan. As Pitkin said, "Charlie Schwan is one of the things that makes Greenbelt special."

A Special Glow

Nature played its role to the hilt this year to put a special glow on the Labor Day Festival weekend. Blue skies, golden days, and just-right temperatures made browsing, or carnival riding, or racing just about as pleasant as those diversions have ever been. The new location for the festival booths and the portable stage gave a special fillip to this year's show. Did you see how the lights at night glowed through the sycamore leaves behind the booths? And how the seating on the grassy slope before the stage was conveniently close and the view uninterrupted by people passing between?

The parade seemed to have a greater variety of floats and other units this year and more entries by local groups—from the little Cub Scouts to the Grey Panthers, from the Irish dancers to the delightful clowns. And if you missed the Governor in his horse-and-carriage near the beginning, you got a plethora of politicians at the other end—of every stripe and for every office. Did you notice how all the troops of pretty dancing girls were stepping for the female candidates? There must be a lesson there somewhere. But as for us, we're too relaxed and happy to care.

Kurburski - DeLio Schwab-Friedland

Mrs. Eugene R. Routt of Greenbelt announces the July 31 wedding of her daughter, Dawn Marie Kurburski, to David S. DeLio of Laurel.

The couple was married at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, by the Reverend Edward H. Birner. The bride was given in marriage by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Holly.

After a wedding trip to Ocean City, the couple will live in Laurel.

Homes Needed for Visitors To Roosevelt Celebration

Greenbelt is making plans to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the birth of Franklin D. Roosevelt. A three-day affair is planned for October 1-3.

Already original Greenbelters from as far away as Florida have said they are coming. Some of these people need places to stay for the weekend. Anyone who can offer a place to stay for the weekend is asked to call the city offices at 474-8003.

The weekend will be kicked off with a reception for Greenbelt pioneers on Friday. Later on Fri-

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schwab of Hedgewood Drive announce the marriage of their daughter, Melissa Beth, to Robert Bruce Friedland, son of Rosilyn Friedland of West Hartford, Connecticut, and Norman Friedland of Avon, Connecticut. The candlelit ceremony occurred on the evening of Saturday, August 7, at Mishkan Torah Congregation in Greenbelt.

The bride is a junior medical student at Howard University. Friedland is completing his dissertation for a Ph.D. in economics at George Washington University and is an instructor at Towson State University.

After a honeymoon trip to Jamaica, the couple will reside in Takoma Park.

day evening a 30's and 40's dance will be held. Participants are encouraged to wear clothes typical of the period. On Saturday, the Utopia Theater will repeat movies which were shown when the theater first opened. The affair will end on Sunday with a program and picnic at the lake.

The response has been overwhelming from both those planning to attend and those offering to help.

Quality of Life

To the Editor:

While most smokers are sensitive to the rights of others, an occasional lapse of thoughtfulness results in unwanted and unhealthy smoke-filled lungs. As a former smoker, I'm sure that I was guilty of that more than once. Fortunately, those occurrences are becoming fewer.

Similarly, most dog owners enjoy their pets without endangering or disturbing others. However, as anyone who spends any time walking around Greenbelt and its lake knows, there are far too many dog owners constantly violating the Greenbelt ordinance dealing with pets and the safety and tranquility of other persons. Too many dogs run around out of control, or barking, or messing private and public areas. In other words, the proverbial "man's best friend" is being converted into a pain in the tail for many.

Can anything be done to restore peace and privacy to the living and walking areas of Greenbelt? I think so. For one thing, uncontrolled pets need to become as unacceptable as smoke blown in the face. More important, we need to communicate to city officials a greater sense of urgency in insuring that ordinances of this type, enacted for valid reasons, are enforced to a greater degree than at present.

With relatively little effort, this problem could be brought under control and the quality of community life slightly elevated.

Reamy-Winterwerp

Debra Lee Reamy and Allen John Winterwerp exchanged marriage vows Saturday, July 10 at Immanuel United Methodist Church in Brandywine. The Rev. Jack George officiated. A reception was held at the Baden Fire House following the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Sharon T. Reamy of Greenbelt and Paul I. Reamy of California. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Winterwerp of Brandywine.

Donna Brandt served as matron of honor for her sister, Leigh Ann Sawin of Alabama, cousin of the bride; Patricia Rousseau; and the groom's sister-in-law, Eva Winterwerp were bridesmaids, with Carrie Poole attending as flower girl.

Francis Winterwerp served as best man for his brother. Ushers were the groom's brother Brian Winterwerp, Marty Rousseau and James Goldsmith. Bradley Sawin of Alabama, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

After a honeymoon cruise to the Bahamas, the couple will reside in Clinton.

Allen-Reed

Former Greenbelters Betty and Gordon Allen are happy to announce the marriage of their daughter, Jennifer Ruth to William Reed, II, on Saturday, August 7, at Paint Branch Unitarian Church. Matron of honor was the sister of the bride, Margaret Fernandez, formerly of Greenbelt. A reception at the church followed the ceremony.

The couple are living in Rockville.

Big Kids' Soccer

by Sue Cornelius

The newly formed Big Kids Soccer League held its first practice on Saturday, September 4, and in spite of all the Labor Day festivities, the turnout was encouraging. More soccer fanatics are expected to join in the next few weeks. Organizers hope to form four teams of Greenbelt adults and are looking for other co-ed teams to play. If anyone has suggestions, please call 937-0388 or 345-6081.

A practice schedule has been tentatively set up for Monday and Wednesday at 6 p.m. and Saturdays at 4 p.m. All practices will be held at Greenbelt Middle School. If interested please come to a practice. This is a beginner's program, so don't be shy. It's fun.

Council Schedules New Public Hearing on Honoring Roosevelt

At its work session of August 30, the City Council again dealt with proposals to commemorate Franklin D. Roosevelt and Albert S. Attick by naming city facilities in their honor. Council noted the lack of consensus among the citizens attending the Public Hearing held on August 23. At that time a wide variety of proposals were received for commemorating the two men who played significant roles in Greenbelt history.

Council reached tentative agreement at the work session to rename Greenbelt Lake Park in honor of Buddy Attick. The members indicated the need to commemorate the many years of service to the City given by the former Public Works Director and noted that no other suitable proposals had been made. Staff was directed to prepare an appropriate resolution to rename the park.

The selection of a facility for Roosevelt proved more difficult. Council noted the Roosevelt Commemoration Committee's support for renaming Greenbelt Lake in honor of Roosevelt. While not ruling out this proposal, Council members expressed the belief that naming the lake for Roosevelt while naming the park for Attick tended to take away from the honor given to either of the men.

Three other proposals for honoring Roosevelt were then put forth and considered by Council.

1. Rename North End School. The City expects transfer of this property to the City this fall. The school will become the largest city-owned public building. It was originally built during the Roosevelt Administration. Since it will no longer be a school, it will need a new name; it could be called the Franklin D. Roosevelt Community Center. While a dedication could not be made at this time, an announcement of the City plans could be done with an appropriate ceremony undertaken at an appropriate time after the City converts the school to other uses.

2. Name the center area. One of the significant features of the Greenbelt Plan was the clustering of business, civic, educational and recreational facilities in the center of the planned community with the houses placed in blocks curving around the center. A commemorative sign could be placed at the entrance to Centerway identifying the Roosevelt Center and indicating the significance of the area to the original planned community.

3. Name the swimming pool. This proposal gives recognition to the great interest Roosevelt had in swimming for exercise and recreation. The swimming pool is one of the original recreation facilities and remains today much as it was when originally built, with the exception of the diving pool which was added in 1965.

Council members then decided to have another public hearing to hear further citizen comments on the three new proposals for Roosevelt, as well as any further comments on the proposal to name Greenbelt Lake in his honor. The public hearing will be scheduled for the same evening as the next regular Council meeting, September 20, and will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building. Council anticipates taking final action at the regular meeting.

Dial 911 for Fire/Rescue

by Wayne Lewis

While you are working around your home, look at the house numbers on the outside. Can you see them? Can they be seen by fire or rescue personnel from 25 feet away? Some house numbers are faded, others are missing and a few are painted the same color as the house. If you are in need of making corrections, now is the time.

While you are outside working, look for the nearest fire hydrant. Can it be seen or is it covered by weeds, poison ivy, or other matter? Help us help you by clearing away any obstructions that may hinder the emergency use of this hydrant.

Have you purchased a spare battery for your smoke detector? When was the last time you checked to see if it still worked? Better safe than sorry.

Primary Choices

Joseph Curran, Jr., must be regarded as the front runners for Governor and Lieutenant Governor over their principal rivals, State Senator Harry J. McGuirk and his ticket mate, incumbent Lieutenant Governor Samuel W. Bogley. Two other duos are candidates Harry W. Kelley, with Lawrence M. Vincent, and John J. Schwartz, with Sharon P. Gensler.

The field is large—nine—but incumbent United States Senator Paul S. Sarbanes should easily outdistance all rivals. If anything, the path to victory should be even smoother for incumbent Congressman Steny Hoyer.

Among Republicans, Anne Arundel County Executive Robert A. Pascal and his running mate, Newton Steers, former Member of Congress, should garner the nominations for Governor and Lieutenant Governor respectively. Prince Georges County Executive Lawrence J. Hogan should have little trouble with two rivals, William A. Albaugh and Donovan B. Finch, in winning nomination as his party's candidate for the Senate. Former Greenbelter Perry Smith should win the opportunity to oppose Steny Hoyer in the November Congressional race.

In the Republican primary, there is no competition for nomination as candidates for the Attorney General, State Comptroller, State Senate, House of Delegates, County Council, Clerk of the Circuit Court and Sheriff.

Among the Democrats there is no competition for the State Senate slot and incumbents State Comptroller Louis A. Goldstein and Attorney General Stephen Sachs have no opposition.

Democrats and Republicans will also select party candidates for courthouse offices. An interesting race is shaping up for Clerk of the Circuit Court. Long-time office holder Norman L. Pritchett is being challenged by County Councilwoman Sarah Ada Koonce. Lester Grayson Humphries, Jr. is also running.

Kaleidoscope Opens Friday

Kaleidoscope, a musical revue, opens Friday night and will continue at the Utopia for the next three weekends. This cabaret-style show depicts an ever changing variety of musical styles including folk and country-western to modern ballads and showtunes. Included are songs from "West Side Story," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Chorus Line," "Tippin'," and "Show Boat" as well as a ballad by Billy Joel.

Included in the cast of performers are Helene Davis, Michelle Rios, Evelyn Sevielle, Lisa Green, Trix Whitehall, Rita Creiger, Betty Xander, Porter Koontz, Kenneth Jackson and Paul Noga. The musical director will be Sally Hershey.

Director of the revue, Cliff Smith, resident of Springhill Lake, has been recently hospitalized suffering from a kidney ailment, and is currently in Prince Georges Hospital. Porter Koontz is directing the revue in his absence. While Koontz adds a youthful zest to the production, the impetus of the revues character derives from Smith, recipient of numerous awards from both professional and community theatre involvement. He received the Ruby Griffith Outstanding Achievement Awards for outstanding direction of Man of La Mancha and Equus. He also directed The Glass Menagerie at the Utopia in November of 1980.

Council Tidbits

At its last two regular City Council meetings council accepted several advisory board reports which deal with current Greenbelt topics of interest. At the August 9 meeting a Park and Recreation Advisory Board (PRAB) report on land acquisition and an Advisory Planning Board (APB) report on North End School Adaptive Reuse were accepted.

At the July 19 meeting another PRAB report noting unsightly pipeline vents at the Lake Park was considered. The vents are related to the WSSC ninety-six-inch water main. Giese reported that WSSC work is not completed and should include plantings around the vents. Mayor Richard Castaldi suggested berms might be used also. Councilman Gil Weidenfeld agreed with the criticism. "We ought to go on record right now," he said. Accordingly, council moved to express its concern and hope that the vents would be adequately screened.

Council approved the bylaws of the new Greenbelt Crime Prevention Committee. The committee had sent a recommendation that funds be budgeted to purchase audio-visual equipment for the Police Department in its crime prevention program. Council, in turn, authorized the city manager to purchase the equipment.

Council passed an ordinance providing for a $25 fine for violation of handicapped parking regulations. First reading was given to two resolutions—one for purchase of radios and another to provide for increased landfill costs.

Personnel Matters

Turning to personnel matters at the August 9 meeting, council declined to act at this time on a request from the Greenbelt Fraternal Order of Police to be officially recognized as the sole representative organization of the rank and file of the Greenbelt Police Department and as the sole spokesman for the rank and file in matters of concern to the city and the membership.

It was explained to Daniel P. O'Neil, Vice-President of F.O.P. Lodge 32, that it would be necessary to consult with the city solicitor prior to taking such action in order to avoid any danger of setting a precedent in dealing with possible future employee organizations which might seek to

The restaurant El Torrito in the Greenway Shopping Center was the target of an armed robbery in the early morning of Sept. 8.

Officer Craig Rich charged three local male juveniles with breaking and entering after he observed them attempting to break into a home on Lakeside Drive. The three had been the subject of a lookout issued after an alert citizen had reported seeing the suspects coming from an apartment on Westway.

A nonresident woman reported that she was raped after accepting a date with a man she knew. He took her to his Greenbelt apartment where the alleged attack took place.

A breaking and entering took place on the night of Sept. 4 in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane. Entry was gained by breaking out a window of the master bedroom.

A few hours later on the same night another breaking and entering occurred in the 9300 block of Edmonston Road where entry was made through a sliding glass door.

Weidenfeld assured O'Neil that the city's experience with the F.O.P. had been good and that the legal consideration was the only reason for delaying action on the petition. The petition was deferred for further staff study and gathering of information from other cities with formal relationships with the F.O.P.

In other personnel actions, council voted to accept the resignation of John Veil from the Park and Recreation Advisory Board and to advertise the vacancy. Veil is moving out of the city. Council also announced the following appointments to its advisory boards: Jose Morales to the Community Relations Advisory Board; William Meisters to the Park and Recreation Advisory Board; Rex Smart to the Crime Prevention Committee.

Greenbelter Liz Phelps Is Track, Field Champ

Greenbelter Liz Phelps, a sophomore at Ohio Wesleyan University, recently completed a record-shattering track and field season for the state-champion "Battling Bishops."

Phelps finished second at the NCAA Division III Championships in the grueling seven-event heptathlon. She amassed a school record 4486 points in the event and in the process broke her own school high jump record with a 5-5 effort. She also broke Ohio Wesleyan records in the 100-meter low hurdles and the 400-meter intermediate hurdles with respective times of 15.4 seconds and 69.3 seconds.

Phelps won the Division III state heptathlon title as well, raking up 4107 points. She also was second in the high jump (5-4), third in the 100-meter low hurdles (15.4) and third in the 400-meter intermediate hurdles (69.6).

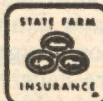

The heptathlon consists of seven events: the 100-meter low hurdles, high jump, javelin, long jump, shot put, 200-meter dash and 800-meter run.

Phelps is the daughter of Harriette D. L. Phelps, Hanover Parkway.

The Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center is expanding its series of photographic workshops, starting in September. The popular Beginners' Photo-technique workshop has been given a new format, and advanced workshops and professional seminars have been added.

A seminar on fashion photography will be taught by David Neely, a contributing photographer to Playboy Magazine and one of the best fashion photographers in the Baltimore-Washington area. It will be given on October 28, from 7-11 p.m. There is a fee. A live model will be available for demonstration purposes and photographing by students under the guidance of the instructor. This seminar is designed for advanced amateurs and experienced professionals, and the maximum enrollment will be 15 students.

The Beginners' Photo-technique is recommended as a pre-requisite for most advanced courses. It is a six-week course designed for the beginner with little or no photographic knowledge. Classes will start on September 15 and October 27.

Putens, Allison Elected To Windsor Green Board

On June 30 Windsor Green Homeowner's Association held their fifth annual meeting for the purpose of electing two members from the community to hold office on the Board of Directors. Ed Putens and Dee Allison were returned by the membership to serve on the Board. This will be Putens' fifth term and Allison's third on the Board of Directors.

Several members of the homeowners association expressed their continued concern over the needed stop light at Mandan and Greenbelt Roads. Putens explained that this is a priority item of concern both with the members of the Board and the Greenbelt City Council. Although the recent State Highway Administration's traffic study indicates that a light is still not warranted at this intersection, other ideas are being researched to secure a light.

Other matters on the agenda included discussion of staggered terms for the Board members to allow continuity between each succeeding election year. The general membership approved the election of board members for staggered terms beginning with the annual election in June of 1983.

Two U.S. Homes representatives were introduced and questions from the attending homeowners followed regarding sales, plans for the future section and their participation in the Association.

Hollis Weisman and Dick Cripe, two homeowners who are members of the Greenbelt Crime Prevention Committee, discussed the Committee's activities and information coming from recent studies.

Another motion provided that no shutters will be allowed in the sections built by Glen Ora Development Corporation.

Education. More courses, including classes in darkroom technique, are planned for 1983. For more information, please write the Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center Photo Workshops, 14 Greenway Place, Greenbelt, MD 20770, or call 474-7763.

GHI NOTES

The next rehab information meeting will be held on Monday, September 13 from 5-6:30 p.m. in the GHI Board Room. The Ad Hoc Historic Preservation Committee is also scheduled to meet next week on Wednesday, September 15, at 8 p.m. in the Board Room. The regular Board meeting is Thursday, September 9 at 8 p.m.

Community response to the GHI Labor Day Festival booth was overwhelming. Almost 1300 people played the hidden treasure game for over 50 prizes donated by GHI members and friends. See the list of winners in this paper. "Life in Greenbelt" calendars also sold well. Anyone who has not bought a calendar yet can get one in the GHI Member Services Office.

Six GHI youngsters marched with the GHI float in the Labor Day Parade. They dressed as Assistant General Manager, a rehab inspector, plumber and painter.

Rehab work is progressing well. All frame homes, except solar units have been converted to electric heat and hot water. Next week members should receive Rehab Bulletin No. 7 with schedules and progress reports on other rehab work. Vinyl siding work started up again September 2 at 9 court Hillside.

Volunteers are still needed to help other members prepare for rehab. Because of age or ailment, some GHI members are not physically capable of moving furniture, boxes, etc. in preparation for upcoming rehab work in their homes. Calls requesting help have far outnumbered those able to help. Anyone willing to spare an hour or so where it would be most appreciated, please call Dennis Lewis at 474-5566.

VOTE FOR

AL James GOLATO

FOR PRINCE GEORGE'S COUNTY COUNCIL

Dear Readers:

Al James Golato is a candidate for the Prince George's County Council for the Fourth District which includes Greenbelt. He needs your support to advance your causes and protect your interests.

Here's some of what a newspaper editorial said about him when Frank Francois' unexpired term on the County Council was being filled by appointment:

Golato for County Council

"FILLING the shoes of Frank Francois on the county council will be no small task . . .

Among the many whose names are being touted, we feel one stands out above the crowd in terms of the expertise he could bring to the council. He is A. James (Al) Golato, a resident of Prince Georges County since 1961. Golato, 58, has a varied background that makes him uniquely qualified for a county government post . . .

Golato has 11 years of service on the county board of education, where he has served as both president and vice president . . . Golato is aware of the problems of cities and towns. He was one of a nucleus of city residents who, together, wrote the city charter.

For the past several years, Golato has served in the federal government in a demanding, top echelon dual position as national director of public affairs for the Internal Revenue Service and as assistant to the commissioner of the IRS . . .

One of the areas of expertise he would bring to the county government is in budgeting. For several years he has been the key school board member in the budgetary process. If there is one thing the county council needs it is more budget expertise. He has always had cordial relations with the school employee labor unions as well . . .

Golato claims a powerful interest in economic development and also in beautifying the county — two areas where the county stands to make substantive gains with some positive pushes.

Those who know him well confirm he is an innovator, an idea person. In addition, his background in public affairs would be a plus. The county's image is far from desirable, and the constant bickering with the county executive doesn't help it . . .

. . . Golato doesn't mince words and can be thankfully brief. We like the idea of someone who is decisive and can come to the point."

GHI Board Chooses New Contractor For Vinyl Siding on Frame Homes

by Sandy Smith

A new contract to complete the vinyl siding on the frame homes was approved at the August 26 meeting of the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. Mead Aluminum and Vinyl Products was selected from the four vinyl siding companies which submitted bids for the job. Mead is the contractor for the on-going gutter replacement work, another part of the rehab program. More requests for exemptions from the rehab program, an appeal for exemption from fence regulations, and other rehab-related items completed the agenda.

Vinyl Siding

The completion of the siding work by Mead Aluminum and Vinyl Products will be performed for a cost not to exceed $431,000. The contract calls for this work to be completed by the end of this December; however, the contractor expects to finish a month earlier. Mead has agreed to side the additions for which members have signed contracts at a price comparable to the one agreed to with Beltway Aluminum. There is also a separate one-year letter of agreement for any corrective work to be executed at a set price for labor and materials.

Directors Mark Dombrowski, Janet Cantwell, Frank Gervasi and Margaret Hogensen wanted to know how many companies had been contacted and felt that the final number of companies did not offer much choice. Assistant General Manager-GHDC, Gary Morningstar, said that 12 companies had been contacted—the original list developed from the Yellow Pages or from recommendations, and that there was a need to resume the siding work as soon as possible.

Exemptions

As has been the case for many of the recent board meetings, a number of members presented requests for exemptions to the rehab program. The first was the request from Benjamin Abramowitz for approval to keep his casement windows "as is" and to install neither new nor storm windows. Abramowitz cited as his reason for this request that his paintings, sculpture, and art supplies require his home to have unobstructed ventilation. Management viewed this request as it had others; namely that members requesting an exemption from the new windows must recondition their casement windows and install piggyback storm windows. Management also pointed out that on August 12 when Abramowitz had been granted an exemption from the heat conversion element of Phase II rehab, it was indicated that no other exemption from the program was contemplated.

There was a good deal of reaction from the Board and from other members present to this request. Director Joe Jenkins repeated his support for the standard plan and wondered "if we could assume that Mr. Abramowitz does not want to take part in the rehab program." Gervasi was puzzled as to why the piggyback storm windows were not acceptable to Abramowitz. If he wanted ventilation, Gervasi said, he could simply open the window.

Board President Jim Smith raised the issue of the kind of substances Abramowitz kept in his unit and if they required such special handling that they might be a hazard and not appropriate to keep in a GHI unit. Cantwell and Hogensen tried to find a way that Abramowitz could keep current windows and replace on resale. Director Wayne Williams said that there was policy and that it should be followed—new windows or storm windows. Ultimately this request for exemption to the window replacement was defeated with Directors Jenkins, Gervasi, Williams, Smith and John Lewis voting against.

A request from members in two adjacent units to keep their current heating system was quickly defeated by the Board. In this instance the Board had not received a technical proposal indicating how these members would maintain their boiler.

Member Elsie Morin was represented by attorneys who presented her request for exemption to the rehabilitation program. She wanted to provide her own oil heating system and to keep the present casement windows. The Board advised her attorney to submit a technical proposal outlining the details of the heat system she proposed for review by the Board.

Not all of the requests for exemption were related to rehab. A request for exemption to the fence regulations was discussed again and still not resolved. It had been introduced and discussed at an earlier meeting and referred to the Aesthetics and Environment Committee, which approved the fence providing there was sufficient landscaping. In question is a proposed stockade fence 6 by 44 feet. In debating this case, many members and board members expressed their feelings about this particular issue and about exemptions in general.

Many members felt that there were too many deviations from the approved and standard plans for structures throughout the community. Others felt that the rules did provide the mechanism for asking for approval for exceptions and that each should be reviewed individually. Some were also opposed to this specific structure. Audit Committee Member Katherine Keene said she is against long, tall fences. Jenkins said that the impact on the community as a whole must be viewed. Gervasi had some questions about landscaping and requested a more detailed set of plans which would show landscaping and elevation. Final decision was postponed.

Other action

The Board approved a $450,000 contract for structural repairs with Gehring Construction Company, established an ad hoc committee on heating costs, and agreed to the recommendations of the Aesthetics and Environ-

Utopia Theatre Plans Classic Film Series

The Greenbelt Cultural Arts Center's Film Committee has been planning a film series for the Utopia Theatre which, pending the securing of sponsors and a substantial number of film club members, would commence in November and run roughly once per month through August 1983.

The Committee has taken a market study which surveyed residents of New Carrollton, Silver Spring, Landover, Laurel and Greenbelt. The study was prepared by Dik Cripe and showed that Thursday evening was the most desired time for films, with Sunday afternoon the second most popular time. Most likely, the series would consist of films beginning on Thursday evenings and running through the weekend, concluding on Sunday afternoon. The most popular films were musicals, comedies and adventures. In terms of the era of films most desired, classics from the 1930's through the 1960's showed up highest. The committee is planning a series which would incorporate those interests. Consequently, the series would feature well-known artists such as Henry Fonda, Peter Sellers, Alfred Hitchcock, Woody Allen, Alec Guinness and musicals such as "Oklahoma."

The Committee is determining the hypothetical schedule and will also be negotiating with film distributors from whom the films will be rented. Bill Cornett and Konrad Herling have met in an initial session with Films, Incorporated. Followups with other members of the Committee will be occurring in the near future.

Two essential elements to making this project possible will be securing business sponsors and the formation of a film club whose members would help subsidize such a series. The establishment of a film club, in which one could buy a series of films for less than it would cost to buy one ticket at a time at the door. Such theatre programs, such as those at the Biograph and the Kennedy Center's American Film Institute rely heavily on funding from club members.

The Arts Center now has, through City Council funding, new equipment which will enable resident viewers to enjoy this potential series. The Center has a new projector and a new screen (when the Arts Center began programming three years ago, there was no screen nor a projector) and

soon will be securing a large take-up-reel for the projector enabling feature length films to be shown without shifting to another projector or stopping for rewinding, except for films such as "Gone With the Wind" or "Reds".

The Committee hopes that substantial support can be shown on the part of the community so that classic films can be added to the already diverse range of programming available at the Utopia. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Film Committee or in being a film club member should call Rosemary or Gus during evening hours at 474-1360.

Dog Bites Threaten Mail

Postmaster John R. Cochran has asked dog owners to help protect letter carriers from dog bites. Cochran suggests that dog owners keep their pets in an area away from the mailbox, and from the areas used by the mail carrier for access to the property.

The Postal Service has the right to protect its carriers by refusing to deliver mail to a household with an unrestrained dog. In the case where a dog is allowed to run loose, delivery to the entire neighborhood could be affected. The Postal Service also provides counseling to bitten carriers who wish to seek action against the dog owners.

Smiling Politicians, Twirlers And Clowns Highlight Parade

by Linda Kizale

On Labor Day, Greenbelters were fortunate enough to enjoy an experience that is now almost as extinct as the dodo — a real town parade. It is not exaggerating to say that all those who lined the parade route were having a wonderful time. The parade-watchers ranged from tiny babies to senior citizens.

The parade was headed by a broadly smiling Mayor Richard Castaldi seated on top of a convertible followed by the City Council members and Outstanding Citizen Charles F. Schwan. After them there seemed to be every politician in Maryland. Governor and Mrs. Harry Hughes, riding in an elegant carriage, waved to everyone, as did Senator and Mrs. Paul Sarbanes, who also complimented many parents on their children. Congressman Steny Hoyer ran along the entire parade route, shaking every hand he could. Lt. Governor Sam Bogley, and all the candidates for County Council, and many others were also in the Parade.

Several bands and drum and bugle corps marched by, all having the effect of so many pied pipers on the children lining the route, who wanted to join right in and march with them. Major-ettes of all ages threw batons in the air and usually caught them. A kazoo band made up of children marched by, led by a weary mother.

Horses

Many horses walked along the parade route, all followed by sanitation crews. The clowns were wonderful, entertaining and imaginative. One was dressed as a rather buxom mother, pushing a carriage of three clown babies. Lucky Luciano's Restaurant had a display of Bonnie and Clyde types, riding touring cars and distributing balloons to the youngsters.

One interesting development almost happened. The "Ban the Bomb" marchers nearly converged with the American Legion marchers.

A real treat for the car buffs were the several vintage old cars that proceeded along the route, including model T's and a beautiful Packard. The firetrucks that were in the parade, including Greenbelt's Fire Department, were shined up like new pennies. Greenbelt's Golden Age Club representatives rode by waving with enthusiasm, perched on top of a truck. The Greenbelt Clergymen's Association walked the parade route.

Miss Greenbelt

Some of the more spectacular parade exhibits included the float for Miss Greenbelt and her court; the Blackthorn Stick Irish dancers, who tirelessly danced the entire parade route, and included a harpist on their float playing Irish music and the, by now, large and impressive procession of Markland Medieval Mercenary Militia, who enacted roles as King's soldiers, witches, royal catchers, tavern wenches, friars, and others. They heckled bystanders with their whole routine of Olde English wisecracks.

The weather was beautiful; everyone seemed happy and friendly; it was a memorable occasion. The Labor Day Parade is one of the things that make living in Greenbelt unique. It is an event to be treasured. Many thanks to all those who worked so hard to make it happen.

FOP MEMBERS ELECTED TO STATE FOP OFFICES

Two members of the Greenbelt Lodge No. 32, Fraternal Order of Police, were elected to positions in the Maryland State Lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police. Jim Craze, President of the Greenbelt Lodge, was elected Corresponding Secretary of the State Lodge and John Lann was elected Chairman of the Board of Trustees. The election was held during the Eighth Biennial Conference, held in Hagerstown. Attending as Delegates from the Greenbelt Lodge were Phillip Coombes, Dan O'Neil, Dave Kress, Dan Love, and Terry McGrath.

Stress Management

The Recreation Department is again offering "Managing Your Stress—How to Relax in a Tense World" as part of its fall program. The instructor, Helen Geller, has a private practice in bio-feedback and stress counseling.

According to Mrs. Geller "We live in a fast-paced, everchanging world which takes its toll in stress-related diseases, both mental and physical. Doctors estimate that 60 or 80 percent of the patients they see have illnesses either caused by or worsened by stress and many of these illnesses are life threatening."

The six-week course will deal with learning what stress is, how it affects one and how to identify the stresses in one's own life, as well as teaching specific strategies and relaxation techniques for handling stress.

Hosea D. White Memorial Award Presented by Mayor

Greenbelt Mayor Richard Castaldi presented the first annual Hosea D. White Memorial Award at the August City Council Meeting. James E. Liles, the recipient, was named Outstanding Participant in the May Ride-A-Bike-For-The-Retarded for collecting $552 in pledges. Greenbelt came in first in number of participants and second in amount of money collected — $4,152 — in Prince Georges County.

The award is in honor of a long-time Greenbelter who had repeatedly been Greenbelt's top pledge-getter. He was killed a year ago in a biking accident. A plaque will be hung in the Youth Center with the name of each year's Outstanding Participant being added.

The following are scenes from the Ride-a-bike.

It's The Law in Greenbelt

City Council has directed its staff to improve the enforcement of city ordinances relating to private property. Violations reported to the city by its staff will result in a letter being sent to the owner or tenant, followed by a second inspection to ensure compliance. During the coming weeks the News Review will print excerpts of ordinances entitled, "It's the Law in Greenbelt."

Sec. 17-23. Accumulation of Litter

No person shall allow litter to be deposited or to accumulate either temporarily or permanently on his property, such as garbage, rubbish, refuse, paper, cardboard, wood, cloth, building material, metal, glass, crockery, tin cans, junked household furniture or appliances, abandoned or wrecked vehicles and any building or construction wastes.

To report a violation of this ordinance, please notify the City Offices at 474-8000.
